School News

Academics

Archbishop Chapelle students returned to campus in early August to receive their new iPad2. Parents and students attended a presentation on the proper care and acceptable use rules before receiving their iPad2. The faculty and students are excited to begin the new school year with the latest in interactive technology.

This year's Summer Enrichment Program provided new students the opportunity for fun, creativity and learning. Their two-weeks included vigorous academic lessons, art projects, and STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) activities. The advisors for the program were Nancy Larousse, Pam Moll, and Marla Chapotel.

Nezha Whitecotton, French teacher, was honored at the traditional Bastille Day luncheon of Les Enfants de la France on Sunday, July 24. Mrs. Whitecotton's students were successful in both the written tests at District Literary Rally in French and at the Southeastern Louisiana University Foreign Language Festival.

Aline Harbison, Religion teacher, taught the Echoes and Reflections curriculum, a Holocaust education program, with an emphasis on propaganda to teachers from private and public schools at the World War II Museum this summer. She also gave a workshop to Catholic teachers in the Lafayette and Baton Rouge areas about teaching Social Justice.

Shaun Rogers '13 attended the Stanford University EPGY Summer Institute, a three week residential program for gifted students. She was enrolled in an intensive-study course titled Investigations in Engineering taught by a Stanford instructor on the Stanford campus.

Brittany Knudsen '12 (Ann Branigan Knudsen '82) attended the National Youth Leadership Forum on Medicine in Washington, D.C. this July. She had the opportunity to debate such topics as social justice, natural disasters and was able to observe a knee replacement surgery.

Athletics

Back to School is a very busy time for Chapelle Athletics. Please continue to check the school website for updated schedules.

Kristi Joseph '14 was selected Goalie MVP for LOUISIANA FIRE, a soccer team made up of girls under 14 from New Orleans, Metairie and the West Bank. They were undefeated in the One Nation Cup in Bremen, Germany, beating the Netherlands 3-1 to capture the championship.

Marissa Ramsey '13 (Ivette Taquino Ramsey '76) was the recipient of The Chipmunk Connection Award for the 2011-2012 school year. The Chipmunk Connection Award is presented to a student entering grades 9-12 who exemplifies catholic values, good character, and service to others and who is involved in school activities.

Summer was filled with excitement and enthusiasm from our summer campers. Girls in grades 4 through 8 enjoyed a variety of specialty camps on our campus. Thanks to all who attended our summer camp and we look forward to seeing you next year!

Girls just want to have fun and they certainly did during the two weeks of Acorn Camp. Our little chipmunks participated in a Princess Pajama Party, Super Safari, Wild West Spirit Day, and Hawaiian Spirit Day. If Acorn campers weren't dancing, singing and cheering, they were competing in a hula hoop contest, "Acorn Idol," or a scavenger hunt.
